Philippe Vancayseele

Philippe Vancayseele has been passionate by chocolate since his childhood and therefore became quickly captivated by the variety of flavours and origins of this sweet delicacy. Moreover, at an early age he was eager to learn everything about the history and production of chocolates. After the successful completion of his studies in pastry, and specializations in chocolate and confectionery at the Culinary Institute (COOVI-PIVIT) in Brussels, he worked for several quality chocolate makers in Belgium. He has always shared the passion and enthusiasm that he has for the product, first as school teacher and since 1994 as global technical advisor for chocolate producer Callebaut. It gave Philippe the opportunity to expand his knowledge and creativity on a top level. Meanwhile Philippe travels around the world, visiting trade shows, competitions and special events, to share his knowledge and passion for chocolate with you!

María Cienfuegos

As a global company well-known for its innovativeness, Chocolate World wanted to pay a tribute to the small city of Baracoa, its 500-year chocolate tradition and its unique position as being part of the chocolate trail, but especially to the people of Baracoa.

The idea was launched to create an exclusive Cuban signature mould with a Cuban artist. María Cienfuegos Leiseca was selected and she was much honoured to become a Chocolate World Ambassador by creating –assisted by the young Belgian chocolatier Jitsk Heyninck– her own signature mould, inspired by the Cuban chocolate tradition.

The concept finally adopted, consists of a unit of 4 separate tablets which will enable the chocolatier to combine different Cuban flavours into one delicious creation of his own.

Roger Van Damme

Roger Van Damme prefers to be called pastry chef rather than chef, even though he creates inventive, refreshing new courses, whilst never losing track of the harmony of taste. He possesses a great creative power and has a large background with regards to the newest inventions in kitchen technology. These aspects, now and then complemented by minuscule transfers, result in masterful experiments, in which taste and texture flow together into scrumptious dishes. Through this harmony, unexpected nuances are changed into optimized taste revelries.

Arthur Tuytel

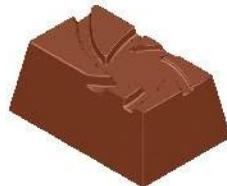

Arthur is a pastry chef with an extensive education. He has followed courses about being a chocolatier and about how to run businesses. He understands full well the importance of creating exclusive pastries, as well as to use a rational and intelligent way of creating them. He used to work as a sous-chef (general management) at the renowned "Huize van Wely" (member of the "Académie Culinair de France" and "Relais Desserts Internationale") and at this moment he still works freelance for Crème de la Crème. Since the 1st of January 2008, Arthur Tuytel has started his own company. They perform workshops, demonstrations and masterclasses, but also fulfill special pastry and chocolate requests. Product development is one of the main activities of his company.

Arthur has become a member of the Dutch Pastry Team, by winning the Dutch Pastry Award in 2001. He has won several other prizes, such as the Grand Prix Mandarine Napoleon Nationale in 2001 and in 2003 has been given the title "Ambassador of Belgian Chocolate" in the Netherlands. In 2005, Arthur and his two team members Jeroen Goosses and Ivo Wolters, managed to acquire the silver medal in the prestigious "Coupe du Monde de la Pâtisserie" concourse.

Arthur's motivation mostly derives from a strong urge to create products in which originality and creativity are key. He likes to measure up to the international level of his colleagues from all over the pastry world, meanwhile improving his own mastery of the field and acquiring new inspiration and ideas. He is very driven to give Dutch pastries a place in the world

FRANK HAASNOOT

Frank Haasnoot may have had early childhood dreams of becoming an architect, but today he uses his creative eye and building genius to create award-winning sculptures in chocolate. As Executive Pastry Chef Haasnoot designs and creates new garnishes for bakers, product developers, other chefs, and the like. And his skills - gleaned from years working in European and U.S. restaurants, hotels, and patisseries - have finally received their due recognition. In October 2011, Haasnoot was crowned victor at the intense World Chocolate Masters in Paris, where he unveiled his sculpture, "Warrior."

Quenelle

Lime caramel

300 gr white chocolate 35%
220 gr cream 40%
150 gr granulated sugar
60 gr water
80 gr lime juice
1 Tahiti vanilla pod

Scrape the vanilla pod and mix with the sugar and the water. Caramelize till dark brown.

Then cool down with the cream and lime juice.

Caramelize the sugar with the cardamon. When nice dark brown mix it with the baked almonds.

After cooling grind it into pieces in the food processor till its fine and smooth.

Cook the cream with the glucose and make a ganache with the dark chocolate. Mix in the praline and Frangelico.

Almonds ganache

336 gr cream 40%
100 gr glucose
540 gr dark chocolate 68%
60 gr sugar
60 gr almonds
2 gr green cardamon
10 gr Frangelico

Davide Comaschi

Born in Vignate (MI) February 12, 1980, at age 13, inspired by his passion for the art of confectionery, Davide embarks on a course at the Capac: his teacher Musnelli advised him an internship in the laboratories of the historic Martesana pastry.

Here Davide meets Vincenzo Santoro, not only a teacher in the profession, but also a teacher of life. It is only the beginning of a partnership that will last years. On the meantime he continues to train participating in courses at Casta Alimenti. His style is a continuous search for balance between the tradition and innovation in techniques and design. A talent that leads him to become the head of production of confectionery in which is work-wise born and raised.

He published his first book. "A year to win" is the story of the twelve intense and exciting months that led Davide to win the title of World Champion of Chocolate. It is the story of a journey, which begun in October 2012 with the regional selections, which reached its peak on October 30, 2013 the coronation and likely to continue for much longer.

Tropical fusion pralines

Ingredients:

Dark chocolate 55%	1 kg - for Casting
Fresh Mango Puree	100 gr
Passion Fruit Puree	75 gr
Granulated Sugar	115 gr
Lime juice & zest	1 pc
Heavy Cream	175 gr
White Chocolate	350 gr
Invert Sugar	60 gr
Unsalted Butter	60 gr

Procedure:

Temper the dark chocolate and cast the mold.
Let the mold set at cool room temperature.
Combine in a small stock pot the mango puree, passion fruit puree, sugar and lime juice.
Bring to a boil to melt the sugar, set aside.
Combine the heavy cream, invert sugar and lime zest in a small stock pot and bring to a boil.
Add the hot cream to the mango mixture.
Strain the mango/cream mixture into the white chocolate, let sit for 1 minute.
Use a rubber spatula to mix the ganache from the centre until well combined.

Cool.

When the ganache has reached 33 degrees, add the butter and incorporate using a stick blender. Chill till piping consistency. Put in a piping bag with a small plain round tip. Fill the chocolate cavity to $\frac{3}{4}$ and let the chocolate ganache set. Cover and seal the chocolate praline with the tempered dark chocolate.
